In 1982, at the Griswold Reunion, Laura (Loomis) Rude told SRP the following information:

"You know they almost made a mistake and buried Emma Loomis's mother [Amy Susan (Woodmancee) Squire] before she was dead. She was all laid out in the coffin in the living room and all, and the family was there, and the next thing you knew, Grandma Squire sat up in her coffin, and gave the family quite a scare. She lived for quite a little while after that."
